

Intelligent Business, U. 13 (1/1)

(abbreviation: IT) the technology of processing, storing or transmitting data by electronic means	further action on something; a follow-up call or visit	writing, receiving and answering letters	practical
an excessive quantity of something	a wireless telephone, using a mobile network; cell phone	to go in where one is not wanted; intrusive = unwelcome; intrusion	to stop something for a short period of time; interruption
an examination of opinions, etc. made by asking people questions	a situation where a defective product is withdrawn from the market and returned to the manufacturer	to deal with information or documents	to put things in the order of importance
		employees who work in offices (vs. blue-collar workers)	a system which allows short text messages to be communicated by mobile telephone